The 09th June 2025 marked a significant step toward shaping a more sustainable and energy-resilient future, as the Minister of Electricity, Hon. Kgosientsho Ramokgopa, visited the Dr Kenneth Kaunda District Municipality Disaster Centre in Klerksdorp. The Minister was warmly hosted by District Mayor Cllr Nikiwe Num, and was joined by the Mayors, Municipal Managers, MMCs, Chief of Staffs, and senior managers from the three local municipalities. The visit was part of an ongoing dialogue to explore urgent solutions to the region's electricity challenges.

Last year, Mayor Num introduced the visionary Waste to Energy Programme a project still in the pipeline but promising to turn environmental waste into electricity. During the meeting, the District presented a costed plan on behalf of all three municipalities, focusing on the upgrading of bulk electricity infrastructure.

Key challenges identified included:

- Ongoing electricity theft
- Delapidated and underutilized infrastructure
- Frequent power outages
- Tampering with electrical meters

In his address, Minister Ramokgopa highlighted the rising cost of primary electricity and emphasized the need for municipalities to adapt through "Greening of the Electrons" repurposing and transitioning toward clean energy solutions. He further explained how municipalities can generate revenue by involving communities in the rollout of smart electricity meters, encouraging payment responsibility and long-term sustainability.

One of the powerful insights shared was the region's vast, underutilized land, which he described as a blessing. With the North West's excellent solar potential, the Minister urged local leadership to tap into solar energy, installing systems that could bring reliable power to communities and relieve pressure on the national grid.

Klerksdorp Auditorium | 30 May 2025

The Department of Trade, Industry and Competition (the DTI), in partnership with the Dr Kenneth Kaunda District Municipality, hosted a successful Spaza Shop Business Registration Training session today at the Klerksdorp Auditorium. This empowering initiative was led by the Director for District Economic Development, Mr Melvin Rampedi, alongside his dedicated team, including Ms Lerato Ramorola, Manager for Local Economic Development and her team. The programme was officially opened by the MMC for Local Economic Development, Alderman Raymond Mampe, who warmly welcomed the attendees and set a serious tone for the day.

While commending those who made the effort to attend in large numbers, Ald Mampe expressed concern over the low number of local applicants for the spaza shop Registration, noting that the majority of applications came from foreign nationals.

"This initiative is designed to empower our local entrepreneurs, and we want to see our people stepping forward and taking advantage of such opportunities," Ald Mampe said. He urged local spaza shop owners and aspiring businesspeople to be proactive in applying for support. Representing the DSBD, Mr Ozayo Ntsulaya echoed the same sentiments and encouraged local participation. He reminded attendees that anyone needing assistance with application forms or process guidance can visit their local municipality offices.

Ms Onoka Sithole also gave an insightful presentation focused on licensing and credit readiness, stressing that licensing is a core requirement for funding eligibility. She urged SMMEs to visit local municipalities for licensing support and advised entrepreneurs to only take on manageable debt—as the Spaza Shop Fund involves both grant and loan components—to ensure sustainable business growth. "Please visit the DTI website or apply directly at www.spazashopfund.co.za," she added.

was Ms Siziwe Zulu, who focused on training and workshops, particularly on how to apply for Spaza Shop Funding. She shared important background on the Spaza Shop Support Fund (SSSF), describing it as an initiative aimed at supporting township-based Community Convenience Shops, especially spaza shops, which play a vital role in South Africa's informal economy.

"These businesses offer essential goods and services, contribute to job creation, and serve as critical retail access points for underserved communities," Ms Zulu said.

However, she acknowledged that these businesses face a number of challenges, including:

- 1.Competition from major retailers with greater purchasing power
- 2.Limited access to capital and business development support
- 3.Food safety and compliance concerns,

- 4.High operational costs that hinder competitiveness
 - 5.Social and economic tensions stemming from the dominance of foreign-owned spaza shops in local markets
- Her presentation emphasized the importance of equipping local spaza owners with the skills, knowledge, and resources needed to thrive in this space. She encouraged all in attendance to actively seek out the training and funding support available through the SSSF contributor to poor service delivery, stressing the need for leadership that prioritizes communities above all.

Key Suggestions From the Floor:

1. Enforce stronger consequences for unethical conduct
2. Implement more effective

internal controls
3. Ensure clear separation between political leadership and administration
4. Protect whistleblowers and investigators with stronger policies
5. Manage conflicts of interest more transparently during decision-making

The SIU made their own presentation too, taking us through with their vision, mission and values. They also explained their SIU Constitutional Mandate and functions. And their legislative mandate. The SIU also stated the key drivers of fraud and corruption in the public sector :

- Weak Government Systems. Where you found out that there's lack of transparency in decision-making.
- Lack of strong institutions- Absence of independent bodies such as Anti-Corruption or ombudsman offices that can investigate the wrong doing.
- Political influence - Politicians and government employees using their positions for their own personal gain.

-Complex bureaucracies and processes - Bureaucratic red tape can create the opportunity for bribery, kickbacks and other forms of fraud.
Let's unite against corruption. Speak up. Act responsibly. Protect our communities.

Dr kenneth kaunda district municipality Strengthening Service Delivery Through Partnerships and Accountability.

Today 15 May 2025 the Dr Kenneth Kaunda District Municipality recently hosted a critical engagement meeting in JB Marks where Sector Departments, State-Owned Enterprises (SOEs), Private Sector partners, and Local Municipalities came together to present their 2024/2025 project implementation reports and share plans for the 2025/2026 financial year.

This important meeting is held in line with Section 15(1) of the Local Government: Municipal Planning and Performance Management Regulations, 2001, which mandates the creation of a platform to ensure community participation in the drafting, implementation, and performance monitoring of the municipality's Integrated Development Plan (IDP). Led by the Executive Mayor, Cllr Nikiwe Num, the gathering served as a space for accountability, collaboration, and progress. Cllr Num emphasized the importance of long-term infrastructure planning, particularly regarding the patching of roads. She expressed concern that continuing to patch roads whose lifespan has expired is inefficient and costly, as the same issues reappear within days. "When the road's lifespan is over, it must be completely redone. Patching only wastes state money and resources," said Cllr Num.
